These algorithms are not available in any other Tagalog Dictionaries you find online, and they are a huge improvement in how well dictionary searches work for Tagalog: Ligature / NG: Searches automatically take into account that the ligature "ng" may or may not be included in the word you're searching for, and return results for relevant words both with and without the ligature, automatically. This makes searching for a word much easier when you are not sure if the ending is a ligature or not. If an exact match to your search is not available, you will see related words with the same root to help you understand the meaning of the word. Affixes, Infixes, Prefixes, Suffixes: This dictionary understands how Tagalog affixes work and takes them into account while doing searches. The search results not only show the word you've searched for, but also search for all permutations with each affix removed from your search term to reveal other related words. The dictionary will often run through thousands of potential affix permutations before giving you the best results it can find. Spelling variations: Tagalog is often written using different spelling variations due to: regional differences, slang, text-speak, informal spellings, common misspellings, and abbreviations. This dictionary takes into account tens of thousands of these possible spelling variations in every search. Built-in Lightning Fast Flash Card Builder: No other online Tagalog dictionary is connected to a flash card system like this website has, which makes creating custom flash cards incredibly quick and easy (with audio!). Just click the "paper clip" icon next to any word in the dictionary to add it to a custom flash card set of your own creation. Once you've created your flash card sets, study them through the flash card system on this website or export to Anki. This helps you avoid a ton of tedious and redundant data entry.
